Senate Ponders Cut In ECA

Taft Belittles Need, Security At Stake

WASHINGTON, April 28 — (AP)—The Senate, having again rejected an attempt to put Spain in the European Recovery program, turned today to proposals to cut down foreign aid spending. "I think we can lick 'em," Senator Connally (D-Tex.) told a reporter shortly after the Senate voted the Spanish turn-down, 42 to 35, yesterday.

As chairman of the foreign relations committee, Connally is plugging for the full $3,372,450,000 in the aid bill.

He said his main worry now is getting the Senate to settle down and agree on a time for a final vote.

Attempts by Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois to get a vote Monday, and by Republican Leader Wherry of Nebraska on Thursday of next week, have been blocked.

An opening blast for a cut of $600,000,000 in the $3,100,000,000 set aside in the bill for Marshall plan funds was fired by Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the Senate GOP policy committee.

Taft argued that the original goals of the Marshall plan—halting Communism and encouraging economic recovery in Europe—already have been accomplished. Therefore the Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA) is asking for too much, he argued.

"I wholly deny that ECA expenditures have any relationship this year to the security of the United States," Taft told the Senate.

While this country is piling up a multi-billion dollar government deficit this and next year, Taft said England has balanced her budget but still is down for $587,000,000 of additional aid.

If these moves fail, Taft said he would support a $250,000,000 cut already voted by the House.

Life Correspondent, Yale Professor Die At Hands Of "Gang"

JAKARTA, U. S. I., April 28 — (AP)—Time and Life Correspondent Robert Doyle and Yale University Professor Raymond Kennedy were found murdered today on the road between Bandoeng and Cheribon in West Java, an American military observer reported.

The observer, Col. Karl Higen, said they apparently were killed by an unidentified gang.

The two left Jakarta Wednesday for Jogjakarta, capital of the Republic of Indonesia, and spent the night in Bandoeng. They had expected to make Jogjakarta in one day's travel from Bandoeng.

Radio Jakarta, quoting its Bandoeng correspondent, broadcast this version of the killing: Kennedy and Doyle were stopped in their jeep Thursday noon by a gang of four or five men in uniform. They were taken to a clearing in the forest and were shot. Villagers were forced to bury them. Then the gang made their getaway toward Cheribon in a sedan they stopped on the road at about the same time.

The villagers reported the shooting to Indonesian army units in the area and the bodies were exhumed.

The report did not say what had happened to the occupants of the sedan in which the gang escaped.

Official Indonesian government sources, however, said they had no details of the killing.

Higen said his report came by telephone from the British United Nations military observer stationed at Bandoeng, Lieut. Col. F. Day.

He said the Indonesian army command had identified positively the body of Doyle but, according to a first report, had difficulty in identifying Kennedy. This appeared to indicate that the bodies had been mutilated.

They were found near the town of Tomo, in a mountainous area. Fanatic Moslem bands of the Darul Islam movement have operated in that area in the past but it was not known if they were involved in the murder.

Kennedy, a professor of sociology at Yale who had written several reports and books on Indonesia, recently has been doing research work in the field. He always drove his own jeep.

Doyle had been working on a story on how the Indonesian peasants felt about the current situation in the islands. He caught a ride with Kennedy and said he expected to interview villagers along the route to Jogjakarta.

Area Census Nears Finish

Counters Find Going Hard In Rural Areas

Although figures on Salem are not yet available, the month-long census taking operation is almost at an end, Census Crew Leader Dan Crawford of Leetonia reported today.

"We expect to wind it all up by Saturday," said Crawford, who is in charge of the census in Salem, Leetonia, Washingtonville and Perry township. He has a crew of 20 persons working, covering 25 census districts in his area.

At the last report, 16,511 persons were close—27,281 for the CIO-IUE to 22,817 for the UE. The CIO union won majorities in the big units and they are the ones that counted most in the final count.

Other unions received 1,317 actual votes and a total of 836 voted for no union.

At least three big locals aren't included in the tabulations because of the close votes and the fact that challenged ballots can throw the pendulum either way.

The NLRB election climaxed a bitter six-month feud begun when

French Oust Atomic Chief, Avowed Red

PARIS, April 28—(AP)—The French government decided today to fire Frederick Joliot-Curie, Communist scientist, as chief of France's atomic energy commission.

Center and right wing leaders and newspapers have been demanding such action ever since Joliot-Curie told the 12th national congress of the French Communist party early this month that "Communist scientists will never contribute a particle of their science to a war against the Soviet Union."

This was assailed by the non-leftist press as a sentiment which should disqualify Joliot-Curie from holding such a vital position. Socialist newspapers also attacked the scientist's statements at the time, although they did not specifically demand his ouster.

The cabinet of Premier Georges Bidault reached the decision in a session this morning.

The 50-year-old scientist, Nobel prize winner in chemistry in 1935, was appointed in 1946 by Gen. Charles De Gaulle, then president, to head the French Atomic Energy Commission.

Since that time Joliot-Curie's name frequently has been associated with Communist activities.

Supplies For Election Being Distributed

Completing final preparations for the primary election Tuesday, the county election board is ready today to distribute precinct supplies to presiding judges in its 121 places.

Supplies for the entire northern district, including Salem, will be handed out Saturday between 9 a. m. and noon at the courthouse in Lisbon.

Those for the East Liverpool and Wellsville districts will be distributed Monday.

Meanwhile, Clerk Frank R. O'Hanlon of the election board reported 139 absentee and disabled voters' ballots were issued before the deadline Thursday night. About half of the tickets already have been voted and returned. The remainder were required to be back in the board's hands by noon today if they're to be counted Tuesday.

New CIO Union Wins 2-1 Edge In Westinghouse

Ousted Left Wing Dealt Defeat; But Total Vote Close

PITTSBURGH, April 28—(AP)—The new CIO Electrical Workers Union has won the right to represent nearly twice as many Westinghouse Electric Corp. workers as the independent United Electrical Workers which was thrown out of the CIO.

The actual number of workers won so far by each union in yesterday's National Labor Relations Board is:

CIO-IUE—28,187 in 20 units
UE (Ind)—14,582 in 20 units

The voting was on a plant by plant basis in 51 units at 40 Westinghouse plants.

Actually, the nationwide vote was close—27,281 for the CIO-IUE to 22,817 for the UE. The CIO union won majorities in the big units and they are the ones that counted most in the final count.

Other unions received 1,317 actual votes and a total of 836 voted for no union.

Hoover Urges New U. N., Minus Red Countries

One World Idea Out, Ex-President Advises In New York Speech

NEW YORK, April 28—(AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover said "the United Nations should be reorganized without the Communist nations in it."

"If that is impractical," he declares, "then a definite new united front should be organized of those peoples who disavow Communism, who stand for morals and religion, and who love freedom."

America's only living ex-president outlined his vision of a new international setup last night in an address before the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

He said the United States is becoming "more and more isolated as the sole contender in this cold war" and is "steadily losing ground" to Russia and her allies.

Assailing the Soviet regime—which was not recognized by the U. S. until after he left the White House—Mr. Hoover said there is great need for a dynamic "new united front" against "creeping Red imperialism."

"This is not one world—but two worlds," he declared.

"The one world idea seems to be lost in the secret files. One world is militaristic, imperialistic, atheistic and without compassion. The other world still holds to belief in God, free nations, human dignity and peace."

Discussing the cold war, Hoover said, "The United States needs to know who are with us and whom we can depend on."

The diners cheered the 75-year-old ex-President's proposals for a new United Nations, and his address was frequently interrupted by applause. The 1,800 persons present stood, shouted and whistled for nearly a minute before and after the address.

To some, it recalled the great ovation given to Mr. Hoover—emerged from years of comparative obscurity—at the 1948 Republican national convention.

Another prominent Republican, John Foster Dulles, said last night that the time has arrived to begin to work on possible revisions of the United Nations charter.

Dulles, an adviser to Secretary of State Dean Acheson and a former U. S. Senator from New York, said in Washington that the charter and the U. N. membership are "dated 1945"—the year of organization.

"As the world has not stood still, so the United Nations should not stand still," Dulles said. "It is time to start planning a general conference to review the charter."

Driver, Six Students Killed By Train

CAMPUS, Ill., April 28—(AP)—Six school children and the driver of their school taxi were killed yesterday in the collision of their car and a Wabash Railroad crack streamliner.

The accident occurred at an unguarded crossing two blocks from the Campus Consolidated grade school.

The six children, ranging in age from 8 to 13, were being taken to their farm homes near this small North Central Illinois community.

The passenger train, the Blue Banner, was north-bound to Chicago from St. Louis. It passed Campus at 4:15 p. m., 20 minutes behind schedule. It sped on for more than a mile after the crash, carrying the wreckage and six bodies with it, before stopping.

One child was hurled from the car, a 1947 sedan. The train arrived in Chicago one hour late.

Printer Saves Wife's Life By Jumping Under Car's Wheels

SEVIERVILLE, Tenn., April 28 —(UP)—The wife of a retired Detroit printer told today how her 75-year-old husband threw his body under the wheel of their automobile and kept her from being carried over a 2,000-foot mountain cliff.

Mrs. Alonzo Fassett, who spent an anxious night at her husband's bedside in a hospital here said the rear wheel passed over his body but the car stopped one foot short of the precipice when the front wheel lodged against him and held.

Doctors assured Mrs. Fassett that her husband apparently suffered only bruises and scratches in saving her from certain death.

The incident occurred yesterday as the couple was sightseeing in the Great Smoky Mountain National Park on the way back to Detroit from a five-month vacation in Florida.

"We were on the highest part of the mountain when Mr. Fassett decided to get out of the car to look at the lovely view," Mrs. Fassett said.

"I decided not to get out because I was afraid I would get dizzy. All of a sudden the car started rolling backward and I screamed."

"Mr. Fassett told me later that he tried to stop the car with his hands. Unable to do so, he took the only alternative and threw his body under the rear wheel of our car. The wheel passed over his body but when the front wheel hit him, the car stopped. My husband's body was lodged under the front wheel."

"We were about one foot from the precipice. If we had gone over, we would have fallen hundreds and hundreds of feet."

As he lay pinned beneath the wheel, Fassett told his wife to flag a car on the mountain highway for assistance.

"I don't know how long it was before help arrived," she said. "It seemed like ages."

A motorist finally stopped and put a jack under the car to free Fassett. Then he was driven about 20 miles to a hospital here.

$17,000 Truck, Load Burn Near Minerva

A truck and a load of house trailer parts, valued at approximately $17,000 went up in smoke following an accident at 6:50 p. m. Thursday on Route 30, just east of Minerva.

State patrolmen from the Salem barracks were told by the truck driver who was hauling the parts that either a front wheel brake locked or the heavy load shifted while crossing railroad tracks there.

Walter Strycker, 42, of Elkhardt, Ind., the driver, received second degree burns of the face and hands and was treated by a Minerva doctor for burns he suffered when the truck caught fire.

The Minerva fire department extinguished the blaze.

Two Motorists Arrested

State patrolmen yesterday arrested Wayne W. Peterson, 27, of Avoca, Iowa, for passing at an intersection on Route 224, near Canfield. He was fined $5 and costs by Justice of the Peace H. A. Walker of Canfield.

Kenneth Gross of Columbiana will appear before Mayor Lloyd Culler of Washingtonville Saturday after being arrested for speeding Thursday on Route 10 near Columbiana.

Denies He Is Spy Himself; Backs Browder

Refutes Budenz' Statement; Won't Tell If He's A Red

WASHINGTON, April 28 — (AP)—Frederick Vanderbilt Field swore today he is not a "Soviet agent" but refused to tell Senate investigators whether or not he is a Communist.

Field also told a Senate foreign relations investigating subcommittee he had never attended a Communist meeting with Owen Lattimore and had never said that Lattimore or his wife were Communists.

Field was called as a witness because of testimony the committee got last week from Louis F. Budenz, former Communist editor.

Budenz said Field had told him Lattimore, a Johns Hopkins University professor, was a Communist. Budenz also said that Field himself was a Soviet agent.

The committee is investigating charges from Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) that the State Department is infiltrated by Communists. McCarthy has made Lattimore, some times a consultant to the department, the central figure of his charges by saying he is willing to stand or fall as to his charges on the Lattimore case.

Lattimore himself has denied the charges and called the Senator an "unmitigated liar."

Fields was the second man to dispute Budenz's testimony about Lattimore. Yesterday, Earl Browder denied that he ever told Budenz that Lattimore was a Communist, as Budenz had testified.

Browder, former American Communist party head, said he had never met Lattimore but knew him by reputation as anti-Communist.

As for Budenz, Browder called him a "professional peddler."

Browder said he would "admit" Field as a Communist.

Field came before the committee with a prepared statement in which he said:

"I wish to take this occasion to deny under oath and without qualification or reservation of any kind any statement or implication that I have at any time ever been an espionage agent for the Soviet Union or for any other country."

As to Lattimore, his statement said:

"I make a similar unqualified denial with respect to any statement or implication that I have at any time attended a Communist party meeting or meetings with Professor Lattimore or his wife, separately or together, or that I have ever stated, directly or indirectly, by implication or otherwise, that both or either of the Lattimores were Communists, Communist agents, or dominated by Communists."

"Any such statements are completely and utterly false."

Budenz, in his testimony, said Field and Browder had committed perjury.

'Assignment: America'

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK, April 28—(INS)—For several years past the nation's comic strip artists have been fighting a running battle

Inez Robb
kids are all seraphim, that vio-

strips and that they, in turn are leading tiny tots into careers of premature crime and violence.

Well, sir, I have been—to coin a phrase—rudely awakened. Moppets and mayhem are as indubitably welded together as ham and eggs or beer and pretzels, and no one knew it better than that fountainhead of Victorian respectability, James M. Barrie.

Now, on the threshold of second childhood, I have just seen for the first time in my life "Peter Pan," a play touted as tops in innocent, light-hearted fun for the wee ones ever since Barrie wrote it in 1904.

ALTHOUGH I had never seen the play before, from the very moment Peter Pan flew in the nursery window in act one it seemed as familiar as the census taker and the farmer's daughter.

But the plan was well into its third bloody act, with redskins biting the dust, pirates murdering injuns, pirates kidnapping kids, kids killing pirates and a crocodile munching a man for lunch, before I yelled "eureka!"

It took a little while to find the gimmick, but the hard truth is that "Peter Pan," so beloved by parents, educators and long-hairs, is simply the precursor of all the comic strips now giving these honest citizens the daily jim-jams.

This play, palmed off the juvenile trade for almost a half century as compounded of sweetness and light, is so full of violence as to scare the fright wig off Boris Karloff, who, incidentally, plays not one but two roles in this Barrie revival.

As source material for all the comic strip horrors to which the reformers object so stridently, "Peter Pan" is unbeatable. I can well imagine that it is to the comic artist what Joe Miller's joke book is to Milton Berle or any other practicing comedian.

NOW, HAVING given what aid and comfort I can to the comic artists (who need it like I need a H. in the H.), I would like to go on to say that the present revival of the Barrie masterpiece with Jean Arthur as Peter Pan is slightly wonderful in every way.

Even old gaffers who saw Maude Adams in the role say that Hollywood's Miss Arthur is in a top class by herself. Although she has played small roles on Broadway previously, this is Miss Arthur's first starring role on the Great White Way.

To play the role, Miss Arthur has made what—to any other woman—would be the supreme sacrifice. She has not had her hair so much cut as clipped to play Peter. Heretofore, the most famous and short feminine haircut current on Broadway has been that of Miss Mary Martin in "South Pacific."

Miss Martin wears her locks cut in a mass of short curls. But Miss Arthur has a crew cut, and no mistake. I must find out if she reverses the usual custom and wears a wig off instead of on stage—or if she just keeps her hat on in the house. Girls, a crew cut may be good on Peter Pan, but it ain't for you and me!

BY THE WAY, it is wonderful to find a Broadway play to which a girl can take her mother. For several seasons, I have been trying to find a play which does not feature illegitimate children, prostitutes, adultery, incest and perversion.

There's murder in "Peter Pan," yes. But what's a little killing among friends and pirates, especially when there are no four letter words?

When I take mother to "Peter Pan," I am reasonably certain that when she gets home she won't feel impelled to wash out her ears not only with soap but scouring powder yet!

O Hum, Who's Lying Now?

THE legal mousetrap called perjury keeps snapping so busily these days that it takes a card index to keep track of the catches and near misses.

Alger has been caught by one hind leg and is recuperating under supervision. The mouse named Maragon, who was a lion until the time came for his associates to throw him to the wolves, has been caught by the neck. And a lot more casualties are in the making.

A reformed Communist named Budenz has testified under oath that he thinks a man named Lattimore is still a member of the lodge, and another man named Browder, who used to be a member in good standing, has testified under oath that Budenz is lying. That seems to make it a standoff all the way around, because Lattimore says everybody, including McCarthy, is fibbing.

Meanwhile, on another sector of the mousetrap front, well-known gamblers who insist they're defenders of the free-enterprise system at heart, are telling Congressmen they know no more about organized crime in the United States than a pig knows about Christmas. Has it occurred to anyone that it might be interesting at this time to hear what mice, testifying under oath and with full congressional immunity might have to say about mousetraps?

Plum-Swallowers

J. FRENCH ROBINSON, president of the East Ohio Gas Co., used a figure of speech in his address to the American Petroleum Institute on Thursday that strikes home. Referring to the Federal Power Commission's grab for authority over gas distributing companies previously under state control, he said:

"The natural gas industry is one of America's largest and fastest-growing industries. Its 250,000 miles of natural gas pipelines are longer than all the railroad trackage in America. There are 10 miles of natural gas pipelines are longer than all oil line. The industry is in the midst of a 3½-billion-dollar expansion program. New interstate pipelines are twisting across the nation, from New York to California. Natural gas is flowing into town after town for the first time. This healthy and growing industry is a real plum to be gulped by big government."

There is no end to the legalities with which plum-swallowers disguise their motives, as every businessman in America has learned or will learn by bitter experience. Sometimes the legalities seem to be the real thing. But the real thing is the urge to nib into private enterprise and local government wherever an opening can be found. The natural gas industry, being big and successful, is now ready for plucking by big government, if it can get away with it.

Ear Bent To Political Winds

EVIDENCE is pretty strong that Mr. Truman crossed up some people when he vetoed the Kerr Bill to exempt independent natural gas producers from regulation by the Federal Power Commission.

Informed quarters say that the version of the bill adopted by Congress not only had the President's endorsement; it was put into acceptable shape at the White House. The indications were plain, according to these sources, that Mr. Truman would sign such a measure.

General belief around the capital is that the President yielded to tremendous pressure brought by groups who feared the bill meant higher gas rates to consumers.

The bill's sponsors, including a lot of staunch

Steady, Bridge

TACOMA, WASH. GALLOPING GERTIE, the greatest shimmy shaker of the 20th century, has a daughter who makes her debut this autumn.

The debutante is expected to be much more stable than her mother, who plumb shook herself to pieces. Who was Galloping Gertie? Well, the boys with the slide rules all know the answer to that one. They'll never forget her.

Gertie was a bridge—a slender, tremendous suspension bridge—that became the victim of what is known as "the Pearl Harbor of American civil engineering."

It happened on Nov. 7, 1940, when Gertie was just slightly more than four months old. She spanned the breeze-whipped Tacoma narrows, and some 265,000 cars had passed across her. From the start she had been a very nervous bridge. She quivered like Gilda Gray—or a plucked guitar string—in any steady wind.

But on this stormy November day she vibrated herself apart and collapsed in a multi-million dollar ruin into Puget Sound. A newsman, the last person on the bridge, crawled to safety across the twisting roadway before the structure went down.

THE EVENT shook some of the mathematical certainty out of engineering circles. They learned the sad lesson that wind pressure could shake a suspension bridge apart as quickly as too great a weight strain could break it in half. The trouble was no one really knew much about the aerodynamics of bridges.

"It had to happen sometime and we were just the goats," said Charles E. Andrew, principal engineer of the Washington toll bridge authority.

"There was an instability of design—the bridge was too narrow. When it was being built, it swayed so much some of the riveters actually became seasick."

After it was opened the shimmy antics of Galloping Gertie made her a kind of public entertainment. Thousands drove many miles just for the thrill of going across a bridge that acted like it was a roller coaster.

"Sometimes there were 50 cars lined up waiting to go over," recalled Andrew. "People are funny. Plans were drawn to straighten Gertie. But before they could be carried out the storm came—and Gertie wasn't there anymore. Now she has a $14,000,000 daughter rising in her place, a huskier span that will be the world's third longest suspension Democrats upon whom Mr. Truman must count on for support, must certainly be angry at this turn of events.

But the consumer who possibly stood to suffer from this bill is little concerned with their wrath. He's undoubtedly thankful that men who understand how sensitive the President is to political winds stirred up enough breeze to convince him a veto was wise.

Japanese Trade

REPORTS from the Far East have it that General MacArthur is not only against Japan trading with Red China but opposes integrating Japan into a Southeast Asia policy.

Details on this are lacking. But if this surface account is accurate, it reflects a view of doubtful wisdom.

Japan is equipped as an industrial nation. Her natural outlets are the Asiatic countries which have raw materials and foodstuffs to trade for the products of industry. If Communist China is to be barred as a market, what is left but the southeastern nations?

Right now there seems little hope in more distant outlets. If Japan can't find places to sell its output, its domestic problems will mount to serious levels. Unemployment already is rising and production falling.

Since the war many observers have labeled Japan the one bright spot in the Far East for America. Unless we re-examine our policy there and help the conquered Japanese to achieve a solid economic footing, we may endanger this hopeful bridgehead in the chaotic Orient.

bridge upon completion this September. And the 5,000-foot new bridge embodies new construction principles.

"WE SPENT THREE and a half years studying aerodynamic oscillation caused by the wind passing over a fixed object," said Andrew. "We tested models in a wind tunnel—just as airplane manufacturers do."

The research disclosed that a steady wind of 40 to 50 miles an hour could cause more vibration damage than 100-mile-an-hour gusts. The new bridge has slotted roadways and deep supporting trusses to equalize or nullify wind pressures.

Work on Gertie the 2nd has been slowed by a fire and an earthquake. But it annoys Andrew greatly to have her referred to as "the jinx bridge." She is wider and stronger than her mother, and built in conformance to aerodynamic principles unknown ten years ago. She is constructed to withstand steady winds of 125 miles an hour, and the highest wind ever recorded across the straits is only about 84.

It was a 45-mile-an-hour wind that collapsed Gertie the first—and Andrew is certain Gertie's daughter will never meet that fate. When anyone asks how long she'll last, he says confidently:

"She'll last longer than you will."

A Low Form of Animal Life

Gambling Drive Lacks Sincerity

By DAVID LAWRENCE

NO GREATER service can be rendered right now to help the states and cities which are under the thumb of gangsters and their political allies than to expose what is happening in the gambling and crime rackets of the country.

The investigation at present being conducted by a Senate subcommittee under the chairmanship of Senator McFarland of Arizona, Democrat, is only scratching the surface, but it is already pointing to the evils which mayors face in various American cities.

The defenders of gambling, especially those who want to see it legalized, profess to see no connection between these activities and the vice that prevails, but if a Senate committee were disposed to inquire minutely into what's happening in various states, it would open the eyes of the American people.

Unfortunately, there has been in some quarters too much of a political complexion given the crusade—an effort to stress a tie-up between the national administration and the political machines in some of the big cities. No thorough study of conditions in these cities, of course, can avoid exposing the politics that hide the rackets but the other objectives are ever so much more important than immediate political advantage of the prosecutors.

THE REAL, value of the inquiry, if Congress will ever get started on a comprehensive job, is to enable the newspapers of the various states concerned to publish libel-proof articles that tell what is going on in our midst. Few newspapers now would dare to print what they know of the gambling rackets because this could involve them in costly litigation.

In one state, for example, a newspaper editor told this correspondent that in one county the regular weekly payroll to pay off sheriffs is in excess of $5,000 a week. This money goes to buy protection and to carry on illegal activities before the eyes of the law. Nothing since the days of prohibition compares with it. The corruption which gambling money has wrought is well known to local newspapers in different sections of the country, but they are unable to publish the details without inviting risks.

THERE IS a hard-fought contest going on in Florida for a seat in the United States Senate, but very little is being said during the campaign about the gambling business. When the campaign is over, it would behoove the Senate investigating committee to take a good look at conditions in Florida.

There are people who defend gambling as inevitable and as something that cannot really be eradicated. They overlook the fact that when any considerable number of citizens, young and old, begin to see law officers indifferent to law violations, the whole fabric of local government begins to deteriorate and it affects everything else that a state or city may try to do to keep vice from infecting its normal life. The Senate hasn't yet fully worked out its plan for a full investigation of gambling and rackets that flourish in several states. Ultimately some resolution will pass and the inquiry will get started. But the delays do look as if there is not the wholehearted determination behind the drive that there ought to be.

It is being said in some quarters here that, after all, these are local and state matters rather than federal responsibilities. No such fine points of jurisdiction have been raised by so-called liberals heretofore in discussing a civil rights issue. The truth is that local government, and in some cases state government, has broken down to the point where federal inquiries can at least bring out all the facts and Congress can determine later what interstate questions are involved. If Congress will only expose the true situation, the people of the various states may be expected to find the remedy—but they cannot be aroused without the facts that a Senate committee can reveal.

Supporters rallied around every new idea and defended it to the last ditch. It was possible to pick a fight by mentioning the possibility that sedans made with demountable wooden panels for winter use probably might not be a very good idea. Insults flew thick and fast in every gathering of owners. Feelings ran high. Partisans frequently got so opinionated they wouldn't even ride in another man's version of what was destined to be the last word in automobiles claimed the contraption wasn't safe and should be barred from the road.

That's all over now. All automobiles are widely and enthusiastically acceptable. It has been years since a patriot has stood up in a crowd and bellowed, "I wouldn't take one of the dad-blasted things as a gift!" Half the fun has gone out of the process of selecting automobiles on their merits—then waiting for the manufacturers to go out of business. Naturally, there never was a car quite so good as the particular paragon of endurance and performance which finally has been retired to pasture after 10 years, but then its successor has some selling points too. It has windshield wipers and a horn that goes beep instead of oink.

They're making cars better every day. First thing a fellow knows they'll be putting stoves and phonographs in them. Maybe by 1960 they'll have central heating.

Social Security

By PETER EDSON

Conflicting Views Sifted By Congress

WASHINGTON In the course of both House and Senate hearings on proposed changes in the U. S. social security system, lawmakers pondered whether retirement at any age is a good thing.

When the original social security act was passed in 1935, it was felt that if people of 65 and over could be retired from the labor force, it would reduce unemployment.

One trouble with this argument is that there are now so many more people living to older ages. Some psychiatrists say it's bad to retire people—they should be permitted to work as long as they can.

Some of the thinking now, therefore, is now to put a premium on people who continue to work past 65. One suggestion has been to exempt people from social security if they work past 65. Another is to give such people an extra benefit. Still another is to permit such people to work without loss of their social security benefits.

The present law says people of 65 and over may not earn more than $15 a month and still draw old age benefits. The amendments to the law passed by the House last year would raise this to $50 a month, with no limitation on what they could earn after 75, while still drawing social security.

BUT the question raised here is whether it's socially desirable to have older people go on working. At 65, they've earned a rest.

Walter Reuther and some of the other crusaders for more social security are really more interested in lifetime income for workers. Wage increases and reduced hours of work have now taken second place to demands for security.

Immediately, however, there rises the practical matter of how all this is to be paid for. The present law provides for payment of 1½ per cent tax on employer and employee for the first $3000 or less of earned income, rising to 2 per cent after 1951.

The House-passed amendment would provide for payment of 1½ per cent through 1950, 2 per cent each from 1951 through 1959, then 2½ per cent each for 1960-64, then 3 per cent each for 1965-69 and finally 3½ per cent thereafter. For a workman earning $60 a week, this would mean a payroll deduction of $1.95 a week, and payment of a like amount by his employer, for benefits after 1970.

Another change passed by the House, however, would increase the base on which payroll taxes are now deducted for social security. The present law computes the tax on the first $3000 of earned income. The House-passed bill would put it at $3600. The report of the 80th Congress Advisory Council on Social Security, presided over by the late Edward R. Stettinus, recommended a base of $4200. President Truman recommended $4800. The labor unions generally support this highest figure. Economist Sumner Slichter of Harvard, thinks social security taxes should be computed on full pay.

ACTUARIES differ all over the lot on whether these increased contributions will provide enough money to pay for all the increased benefits which the unions want.

In setting up the social security system, it was felt that it should be conducted like an insurance company, with ample reserves to pay future claims.

In the early years of any such system, more money comes in than goes out. All the government can do with the surplus is buy government bonds. Many critics of the system have charged that this merely provided the Democratic administration with an easy source of income and contributed to profligate spending.

The proposed remedy has been to put the whole thing on a pay-as-you-go basis. Louis T. Meriam of Brookings Institution, for instance, argues that the present system is financially unsound. He favors raising the money for social security benefits as it is required, by a flat rate, universal income tax.

All these conflicting views came to a showdown when the Senate Finance Committee closed its hearings and began consideration of revising the House-passed bill. For a couple of days there was real consideration of abandoning the present system and switching to something like the Townsend plan. It was finally voted down.

The Finance Committee has not yet reported out its version of the House-passed bill. But it is noteworthy that the recent Republican policy statement supports the present contributory social security system.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Stomach Heavy? Don't Gulp Air

A GREAT many people are troubled by what they call gas in the stomach and burping. The following letter is typical.

Q—What causes gas to settle in the stomach and constant burping?

A. P. R.
A—in most cases this comes from swallowing air, usually unconsciously. It is most common to swallow the air after a meal. There is a way of testing this out. A person cannot swallow air with the mouth open. If the mouth is kept open after meals for a while, the burping is likely to cease. A person who is not able to concentrate on this can hold a small cork from a bottle between the teeth for a half hour after eating.

Q—What causes a 10-year-old child's heart to thump so hard at times that it shows beneath the clothing? Is this a sign of heart trouble?

A—This could be a sign of heart trouble such as enlargement of the heart. However, the heart beat is more likely to be visible in a thin-chested youngster. An examination of the heart should be made.

Q—What is the value of creams or ointments containing hormones to cause bust enlargement?

E. S. G.

A—When the smallness of the bust is caused by an insufficiency of the hormones from the ovaries, creams containing these hormones (known as estrogens) will cause some breast enlargement. The enlargement, however, lasts only as long as the estrogens are given. Taking such hormones over a period of time may cause complications, however, and it is not advisable to start them without the professional go-ahead sign nor to continue them indefinitely unless the possibilities for harm are checked from time to time. The fact that the bust enlargement lasts only while the hormones are being given does not make them very desirable for this purpose.

Q—Is it safer to have concrete or something soft like sand under a child's jungle gym?

T. S.
A—If the sand (or shavings) are kept loose under the jungle gym, it is probably safer than a hard surface. If the sand is allowed to pack, however, the surface generally becomes irregular and perhaps is more dangerous from the standpoint of sprains or fractures than a hard base.

'Pocketbook' Politics

NOTING the trend toward smaller phonograph records and less-than-pocket-size magazines, some Republicans have decided maybe one way to win a bigger slice of the vote market is to follow suit.

So now we have a 99-word capsule containing what purports to be the distilled essence of the 1950-word party policy statement issued by the GOP high command some time back.

Just to show you how the squeeze was applied, the difesters took a 400-word pronouncement on the subject of "liberty vs. socialism" and pressed it down to a mere four words.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if this idea caught on among politicians generally? Imagine a political rally, for example, with two 10-minute speeches. Looks like the Republicans really have something here.

Anti-Cold Charges To Be Examined

WASHINGTON, April 28 — (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission starts hearings today to determine whether the public has been told the truth about some so-called anti-cold drugs.

Two makers of the newly-developed cold pills — medically known as antihistamine preparations — have been called to testify on FTC charges that they used "false and misleading" advertising to promote the sale of their products.

The companies—Bristol-Myers and Anahist Co. Inc.—also get a chance to reply to the Trade Commission's contention that their cold remedies may even be harmful to users.

Bristol Myers manufactures and sells a product called "Resistab." The Anahist preparation is sold under the trade name "Anahist." Both companies already have denied the charges.

Similar Trade Commission complaints also are pending involving two other antihistamine products, "Inhiston" and "Kriptin" on which hearings are yet to be scheduled.

Canada's Oil Needs Met By Discoveries

CLEVELAND, April 28—(AP)—Oil discoveries in Western Canada put that nation in a very favorable position to meet her own needs, says Dr. Oliver B. Hopkins, vice president of Imperial Oil, Ltd., Toronto.

He spoke late yesterday at an eastern district meeting of the American Petroleum Institute's division of production.

Conservative estimates, he said, "place Canada's undiscovered reserves at 'several' billion barrels and some geologists predict that five billion barrels will have been proved within five years.

"Certainly it can be said that Canada is well on her way to self-sufficiency in oil, and may have more than enough for her own requirements."

Discoveries already made in Alberta have increased Canada's reserves from about 72 million barrels at the end of 1946 to about a billion barrels. Alberta fields now produce about 65,000 barrels a day and "are capable of producing" about 125,000 barrels, compared with current national consumption of 320,000 barrels a day, he said.

HOW ABOUT A LIFT?

NEW YORK, April 28—(AP)—Elevator operators and other service employees—the people who make apartment life comfortable—began walking out today in a strike that threatened to affect 250,000 residents of the city's skyscraper dwellings. The cliff-dwellers of Park avenue and many a less fashionable street agreed life wasn't so luxurious without them.

Although Congress authorized the secretary of the treasury to mint three-cent pieces during World War II, no coins of that denomination were struck off.

"Is it too late, Doctor?"

SOONER OR LATER, one out of every five living Americans may ask his doctor this question about cancer.

The answer may be: "Yes . . . I'm afraid so . . ."

But, today, the doctor can say to an increasing number of cancer victims, "No, it is by no means too late . . . There is much that we can do . . . In fact, your chances for recovery are good."

THIS heartening reply reflects the great progress of medical science against cancer. And as the years go by, there is every reason to believe that the ancient dream of conquering this disease in all its forms will be realized.

When and how soon, depends to a large degree upon expanding and continuing the research program of the American Cancer Society. This year the Society needs five million dollars for research alone.

Each year the American Cancer Society is forced to reject for sheer lack of money many applications from scientists and doctors who are eager to carry forward research. And who knows but that among these unfulfilled requests there might be proposals which would lead to great advances against cancer?

WHAT RESEARCH HAS ACCOMPLISHED
Cancer Research supported by the Society has already yielded new surgical techniques and improved methods of using x-ray and radium. More recently, research with radioactive isotopes has revealed facts about processes heretofore completely hidden in the body's cells. It has also given scientists new knowledge of hormones and certain anti-cancer drugs—thus making possible more effective control of some types of cancer.

YOUR PART IN CANCER RESEARCH
Someday the moment of triumph over cancer will come. But it will come only through continuing research in physics, chemistry, biology, and medicine.

Knowledge from all these fields is vital, for cancer is the largest, most complicated problem ever put to science. So thousands of trained minds and an arsenal of complex and expensive laboratory equipment must be kept at work until the fight is won.

Part of the money which you donate will support research and help to prevent the loss of millions of lives to cancer. Give—and give generously—so that sometime in the future doctors may never have to face another patient and say: "I'm afraid it's too late."

Remember cancer can strike anyone, but you can strike back. There's hope—if you give for research and the other vital activities of the American Cancer Society.

Lausche Vacillates On Turnpike, Claim

CLEVELAND, April 28—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche is "caught between his big railroad connections and his powerful political allies" on the Ohio turnpike issue, a political opponent said yesterday.

Mayor James A. Rhodes, of Columbus, a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, told a Cleveland rally:

"Gov. Lausche's out-of-office employment at $10,000 by Associated railroads, created by Robert R. Young of Cleveland, is a public fact. On the other hand, the northern Ohio interests, to whom the governor owes his political life are demanding in-office action on the turnpike."

Meanwhile, the Ohio Turnpike Commission had this to say about a delay in beginning a survey for a new super highway across northern Ohio:

There will be no meeting of the commission on May 2, the scheduled date, unless the state highway director advises he is prepared to proceed with the survey in accordance with the Ohio Supreme Court decision.

The court's decision freed funds for the survey. But Gov. Lausche said he thought it might be a good idea to test the full constitutionality of the turnpike law before spending any money for a survey.

Highway Director T. J. Kauer, who is holding up the survey pending word from the governor, could not be reached for comment on the Turnpike Commission's statement.

Rhodes told the Cleveland rally Gov. Lausche is "beating around the bush" on the turnpike issue "while he tries to make up his mind as to which personal master to serve."

West Local School Has Health Program

The program sponsored by Corwin E. Gotschall, principal of the Bunker Hill school, and County Nurse Alice Crowell, is designed to make the students more health conscious through a study of disease by individual groups and a report before the entire school on the findings.

Students and the research committee to which they have been assigned are:

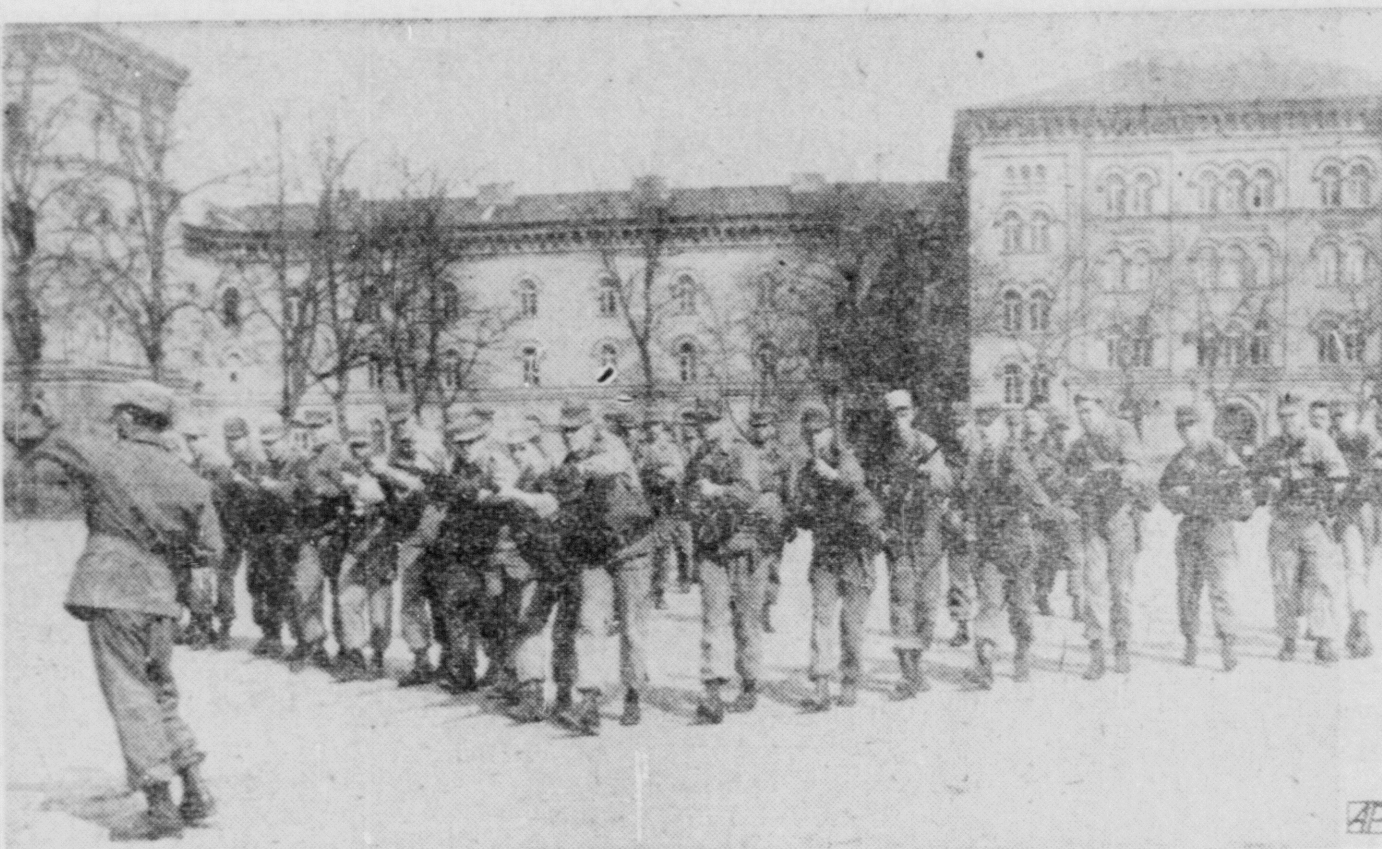

Rheumatic fever—Robert Carle, chairman; Shirley Hardy, Eileen Ruff and Nora Fox.

Tuberculosis—Larry Zwick, chairman; Arthur Wickersham, Nelson Barrick and Harry Davy. Cancer—Bobby Hahlon, chairman, John Scott and Nelson Williams.

Polio—Larry Rue, chairman, George Lutsch and Bert Lanam. Common colds—Virginia Fox, chairman, Albert Amon, Nancy Barrick and Carolyn Boord.

Whooping cough—Frank Hein, chairman, Robert Walker, Judith Davidson, Jo Anne Hilverding and Nancy Pryor.

Measles—Bertha Rogers; scarlet fever—Ann Scott and smallpox—Robert Kibler.

RIOT DRILL IN BERLIN. Soldiers of the American Seventh Constabulary battalion practice creeping wedge and flanking formations in the courtyard of the former headquarters of Hitler's personal SS bodyguard unit in Berlin. High U. S. Officials say an expected invasion of Berlin's western zone designed to drive the western powers out of the city—by a half-million German Communist youths will be resisted to the limit.

Akron U. President To Retire In October

AKRON, April 28—(AP)—Dr. Hezleton Erastus Simmons, president of Akron University since 1933, will retire next October.

The school's board of directors disclosed yesterday that Dr. Simmons will be 65 then and must step down under the university's retirement rules.

A committee will be named to pick his successor.

Widely known as a chemist, Dr. Simmons was loaned to the government during the war to be associate chief of the War Production Board's rubber branch.

He has been connected with the university and its predecessor, Buchtel College, since he enrolled as a student in 1903.

AWARDED FORD CONTRACT

CLEVELAND, April 28—(AP)—Hunkin-Conkey Construction Co. reported today it had been awarded a contract for foundations, substructure and other work at the site of the new $70,000,000 engine plant of Ford Motor Co. in Brook park. The first portion of the contract will cover about $3,000,000 worth of work.

Hanoverton Girl Is Chosen News 'Carrier of Week'

Sandra Bailey

Sandra Grenea Bailey, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Bailey of Hanoverton, has been chosen by The Salem News as the "Carrier of the Week."

Sandra started her business career in September, 1949, and has enjoyed every day of it. When she succeeded her brother, Don, she had 31 subscribers. Since that time, she has built up her route to 48 customers by giving prompt and courteous service to her subscribers. The customers and the excellent service earn for her an average income of $3.50 per week.

Miss Bailey is putting her profits into U. S. Savings Bonds and still has spending money left.

She has praise for her sister, Joyce, 11, for the help Joyce gives her during the winter months. Sandra is a seventh grader in Hanoverton School. She has Sandra said her route has given her valuable training in business methods, bookkeeping and in getting along with all types of people. She is one of two Salem News girl carriers.

The News congratulates Sandra for being the carrier of the week and is proud to have her as one of its "Little Merchants."

Year-Round, Turkey Is Welcome

FOR spring dinners turkey is always a good buy. Today, it is a year-round menu item.

Barnett Gabriel, head of A. & P.'s national egg and poultry department, explains why. "Improved production methods and more efficient distribution make turkeys available right through the year. This availability of broadbreasted turkeys at such favorable prices and the fact that there are now over 28 million pounds on hand puts them on the festive table in spring, too."

But the cheesecloth versus basting of turkey controversy goes on. Kathryn B. Niles, home economics director of the Poultry and Egg National Board, urges me with soft-spoken conviction to plug for cheesecloth.

"Roast turkey at low temperature," she says. "Cover top and sides with fat-moistened cloth, preferably clean white cheesecloth. Moisten cloth with fat from bottom of pan if cloth dries slightly during cooking."

It's scientific, undoubtedly. Some of our best friends do it. Nevertheless, we stick to basting. It gets to be a family affair. Everyone takes a whack at it, even the early guests. The cookery experts of the U. S. Department of Agriculture agree with us. They say "baste." So that matter is settled to our crisp brown satisfaction.

For a Sunday treat, old-fashioned strawberry shortcake is always welcome. Use your favorite biscuit dough with a little extra shortening. To serve, split warm biscuits in half, remove some of the soft part, then butter. Cover with slightly sweetened fresh strawberries. Use heavy or whipped cream.

For a big party—an announcement or wedding party, try Strawberries Romanoff.

I asked my friend, Nino, maitre d'hotel of the elegant Drake Room in New York City, how to prepare it.

He had a table rolled before me. There were red strawberries and a few sweet figs in a bowl set in ice; in another French ice cream and one of crushed macaroons.

With a fork he punctured the berries. "Allow about eight for each person." He poured 2 ounces of port wine over them. He was making four servings. Next he added two cups of whipped cream to the berries, poured in 3 ounces of brandy and added two scoops of ice cream. Gently he blended all these things and piled the nectar into four serving plates. On top of each he sprinkled the crushed macaroons and a teaspoon of Grand Marnier. (NEA Service, Inc.)

Ohio AFL Lays Anti-Taft Plans

Will Start Drive After Primaries

COLUMBUS, April 28—(AP)—The AFL Ohio Federation of Labor can't start too soon trying to defeat U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft next November, state leaders decided.

So, the organization drafted plans last night to begin their campaign against Taft just as soon as the voters are counted in next Tuesday's primary.

AFL leaders in Ohio, in a state capital conference, also decided to try to add 100,000 new AFL members in the state.

This is the way Philip P. Hannah, executive secretary of the Ohio Federation, sees it:

"There's no use quibbling. The main purpose of our membership drive is to marshal the forces of labor to defeat Taft."

Taft, unopposed in the Republican primary, is co-author of the controversial Taft-Hartley labor law.

Seeking the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator are State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson, Mayor Michael V. DiSalle of Toledo, Henry M. Busch of Shaker Heights, Walter A. Kelley of Cincinnati, John Martin of Steubenville, Edward Welsh of Dayton, and William L. White of Newark.

Political observers say Ferguson and DiSalle are the strongest candidates.

Hannah said the campaign against Taft will be conducted through mass meetings and "all mediums of public information."

"We intend to defeat Taft with ballots, not dollars," he said.

As the AFL plans to oppose Taft in the November election were told, DiSalle said in Cleveland the Taft-Hartley labor law should be repealed. Speaking at a series of meetings, he said:

"Taft himself has advocated not less than 28 amendments to the

62 Teams Competing In Wesleyan Relays

DELAWARE, April 28 — (UP) — The 19th annual Ohio Wesleyan High School Relays here tomorrow will feature 24 teams in Class A and 38 in Class B, with Springfield and Poland seminary the respective defending champions.

There will be 417 individual entries in Class A and 480 in Class B.

The Springfield cindermen will number 30 to lead the A division in number of entries. Last year the Wildcats monopolized the weight events and will be defending their third straight crown.

Only Cleveland East Tech has ever been able to capture four meets in a row, during 1942 and 1945, but Springfield may do it tomorrow.

Poland snared the title last year for the first time in its 20-year history and has 19 thinclads ready to try to keep it tomorrow.

Quaker Track Team Goes To Uhrichsville

Salem High's track squad, along with 13 other northeastern Ohio teams, will compete in the annual Uhrichsville Relays Saturday. The Quakers, trying to get in shape for next week's Night Relays here, dropped a dual meet in Warren this week.

Mansfield is the defending team titleholder. Other teams entered are Akron North, Akron South, Cuyahoga Falls, Canton McKinley, Canton Lehman, Cambridge, Struthers, Dover, Uhrichsville, Cleveland Rhodes, Cleveland West and Cleveland Lakewood.

Puddin' Head Is Hitting 417

Grand Slammer Routes Preacher Roe In First

By JACK HAND

Put Willie (Puddin') Head Jones in Brooklyn and he makes like Stan Musial. The Phillies lapping third baseman just loves that Dodger pitching.

Puddin' Head is on cozy terms with pitchers of all varieties this spring. So far he's hitting a rousing .417 with three homers and a league-leading total of 11 RBIs. He has a nine-game hitting streak including one tie game.

Brooklyn, though, is his happy hunting grounds. Jones wrecks the Dodgers at Ebbets Field just like Musial. Last year, his first full season in the big time, the kid from Laurel Hill, N. C., batted only .244. Yet he hit .333 at Brooklyn. No visitor, except Musial, bettered his four homers in Flatbush.

When the Dodgers came to Philadelphia last season to clinch the pennant, Puddin' Head almost knocked them out of the World Series. He homered off Preacher Roe Oct. 1 and hit another off Don Newcombe in the final game before the Brooks put over the clincher in the tenth inning.

Now it's the same story all over again. All three homers came off Brooklyn pitching. Yesterday he ripped into Preacher Roe for a grand slammer in the first inning. The Preach never got the side out as the Phil scored five en route to an easy 9-2 romp.

Robin Roberts, the bonus "baby" from Michigan State, checked the onrushing Dodgers with eight hits. It was Brooklyn's second loss, both to Roberts, smashing a six-game win streak. Last year Robin never beat the Brooks.

AFTER LOSING six of nine starts to their old teammate Murry Dickson, the St. Louis Cardinals turned on him last night to trim Pittsburgh, 5-2. Ever since the Cards sold Dickson to the Pirates for $125,000 early in 1949 he has been in their hair. This time they blasted him out with a four-run bomb in the fifth in the Pirates' first home night game.

Red Munger, beaten by Pittsburgh in his first appearance, lasted the route, allowing six hits. It was Pittsburgh's first defeat since opening day, snapping a five-game win streak.

The game cost the Cards the services of Stan Musial for at least two days. Musial, boosting his average to .448 with two hits, sprained his knee when he tumbled rounding first base in the eighth.

Dave Koslo, low earned run pitcher in the National last season, lost his control in the tenth inning and walked Willard Marshall, a former New York Giants teammate, with the bases loaded. That passed gave the Boston Braves and Warren Spahn a 2-1 decision. Spahn became the first major leaguer to win three games with a six-hit effort.

Tommy Byrne was his old wild self in the Yankee stadium, walking eight men in five innings as Boston thumped the New York Yankees, 7-2. Byrne gave up five runs on one hit in the fifth inning. At the time he and Ellis Kinder were all even, 1-1 Tommy walked four, committed a wild pitch and a balk and gave up one single in the big Sox inning.

Bob Hooper, a Buffalo grad, turned in a fine relief job, following starter Hank Wyse, in Philadelphia's 4-3 night win over Washington. Wyse was lifted with two runs in and the bases loaded in the second. Hooper yielded only one run the rest of the way.

Rain and cold weather knocked out a good share of the schedule.

Indians Try Again; Feller To Get Chance

DETROIT, April 28 — (AP) — After four days of weather-enforced idleness, Cleveland's Indians prepared to try again today.

Bob Feller, who pitched a five-hitter against the St. Louis Browns in his first start of the season last week, was given the assignment for today's game with the Detroit Tigers.

Manager Lou Boudreau said Bob Lemon will face St. Louis Saturday when the Indians return to Cleveland.

Mike Garcia and Early Wynn were his choices for Sunday's double header with the Browns. It was 40 degrees yesterday, but the Tribesmen worked out for two hours in their first activity since last Sunday's double header.

Michigan Baseball Team Plays Hoosiers

CHICAGO, April 28 — (AP) — Michigan, the only undefeated team in the 1950 Big Ten Baseball race, risks its first place standing against Indiana at Ann Arbor today.

The Wolverines, who shared the title last year with Indiana and Iowa, got off to a fast start by losing two games from Minnesota last week.

Michigan will tackle Indiana again tomorrow. Other Friday-afternoon conference series include Illinois (2-2) at Minnesota

FLYING LOW—British rider Harold Lines zooms over a rise on way to victory in the International Motorcycle Cross race on the Montreuil Circuit, near Paris, defeating top riders from European countries.

(1-3); Wisconsin (1-1) at Northwestern (1-1), and Purdue, making its league debut, at Iowa (2-2).

Ohio State (2-2) is host in a two-day, non-league series to Michigan State.

Ohio State is the No. 1 hitting team in the conference with .288. Pacing the Buckeye attack is Fred Taylor, first baseman with a .600 average, the best in the Big Ten.

MIAMI SQUAD SET

OXFORD, O., April 28 — (AP) — Coach Woody Hayes said today he expects to use more than 280 players as freshman and veteran contingents of Miami University's spring football squad tangle in a public intrasquad game tomorrow. Each unit will operate a two-plateau system. The game will climax spring drills.

Here's The Pitch

By BOB DIXON

BACK in 1930, at age eight, we attended the first Salem Night Relays. Since that time we've attended 14 of the annual events (missing in 1942) and every one has been of terrific interest.

We're sorry to say that the 16th annual meet has sneaked up on us this season. It's next Saturday, May 6. The sneaking weather lately has knocked the track season into a cocked hat—the Quakers had their first meet only this week. Due to the late date, we feel it's time to beat the drums loudly for the top track and field attraction in northeastern Ohio.

On the fast Reilly stadium track over the last 20 years some of the best high school track stars in the country have shown their wares. Only the great Jesse Owens failed to compete here in the Night Relays, but even he got to Salem finally in an exhibition.

Salem High athletes have contributed greatly to the history of the meet. Quaker teams dominated things during the first four years of the Relays, winning in 1930, 31, 32 and 33. Fred Cope came back with another nice all-around team in 1937 to win Salem's fifth and last title.

We can still reel off the names of some of Salem's stars in the early days of the meet. Ed Beck, Bill Miller, Henry Reese, Wayne "Muscles" Russell, Don Lease, Bruce Arnold, Irwin Beck, Keith Harris, Harold and Clarence Walker, Harold Holtsman, Bill Pauline, and Bill Smith were a few that rolled up the points for Salem teams in the early '30s.

Later, in the 1937 era, came Dick Eakin, Charley Yeager, Bob Clark, Howard Tibbs, Joe Morris, Tom Toelen, Archie Bricker, Dick Beck, Bill Schaeffer, the great Paul Roelen, Dick Werner, Cliff Lowery, and others.

We know we've missed some, but the names escape us at the moment, although they were undoubtedly as valuable as those listed. Lately the Night Relays have been dominated by larger schools, namely Toledo Scott, Cleveland East Tech and Canton McKinley.

Last year the mighty East Tech squad won an easy 24-point victory in the meet over their nearest rivals, Akron East. They'll be back next Saturday to defend their laurels.

A serious blow to this year's meet was struck by Heinie Beck of Warren, Harding High athletic director and president of the Northern Ohio Scholastic Conference. Without consulting any of the competing schools, Beck scheduled the NOSC meet on May 6, which really hurt Fred Cope's pet meet.

Warren and Canton McKinley, long time Night Relays competitors are forced to forego the Salem event to take part in their conference meet. The great Mansfield High team, which has never taken part in the local meet, but which had planned to come this year, will likewise have to back it up.

The action by Beck, who should look around before he acts, deprived Salem track fans of the pleasure of watching some fine runners. The sad part about it all is that the May 13 date could have been used by the conference for its meet. There are no other major events scheduled for that date. Why didn't they pick that day? Ask Beck.

CIO Union

the CIO ousted the UE on the grounds it is Communist dominated. The CIO-IUE claimed to have received 41,155 votes in the election, compared to 12,189 for the UE.

James B. Carey, chairman of the IUE administrative committee, said his figures had been received by union headquarters in Washington.

Carey issued a statement saying "The vast majority of the workers in the electrical, radio and machine industry have decided that they want CIO and not a weak independent union such as the UE has come to be."

Lattimore

mended Lattimore for infiltrating Communist-minded writers into the Institute of Pacific Affairs. He also named Lattimore as a member of a "Communist cell" in the Institute.

The institute is a private organization, formed some 25 years ago with the declared purpose of increasing knowledge about the Pacific area and promoting friendship among the peoples of nations adjacent to that ocean.

Field related that he was employed by the institute from 1928 to 1940 and was executive secretary of its American branch during the six last years of his affiliation.

He said that during part of the period Lattimore was a member of the national secretariat of the Institute, and he had met him in connection with Institute work.

He added:

"Since I worked on the staff of the American branch and he worked on the staff of the international branch our relationship was limited because we were stationed, for the most part, in different cities or countries.

"Our association did not involve a relationship to the Communist party in any way whatever."
